About The Building...

7000 S YOSEMITE

7000 South Yosemite Street is a Class B office building located in the southeast suburbs of Denver, Colorado. This two-story brick building offers great historic occupancy in the heart of the southeast suburban Denver office market. 7000 S Yosemite is located directly adjacent to the Denver Tech Center, one of the area's most dynamic business-oriented developments. It's within close proximity to I-25 with a plethora of great restaurants and entertainment nearby! DTC has three light rail stops located within the submarket, making it a prime location for transit-oriented development.
